A BALL ON THE GAME.

FAIRY AMATEUR'S VIEWS OF GOLF
GAMBLING.

Among the great army of week-end golfers this week one topic has monopolized conversation—the serious effect which gambling is having on the game in the South of England. Money stakes, frequently of £5 and sometimes going as high as £20, are alleged; and the spirit of the game in the South is said to be "as bad as prize-fighting." A Daily News representative has obtained the views of Mr. John Ball, one of the most famous personalities that the game has known, and the winner of many championships. Interviewed at Hoylake, the celebrated amateur said that whatever the custom might be in the South gambling was certainly not general in Northern golf clubs.

I should think the majority of golfers have a tall of the result of a round, he said, "but I do not call that gambling. It is simply tantamount to 'paying for the cost of the table' at billiards. It is a common custom in all golf clubs. Of course, some golfers who fancy themselves may play a game for a large stake, but it certainly is not a general custom—at least not in northern clubs. I cannot speak for Walton Heath or Buntingdale, because I don't play there courses. I quite agree that there are some people who can't enjoy a game of any description unless there is a bet on it, but I do not think this class is common among golfers."

Golf, he added, "is too good a game to be spoiled by gambling and, personally, I don't believe there is the slightest chance that it ever will be."

In this Mr. Ball differs from the well-known Walton Heath member who frankly confessed that gambling (which southern golfers admit is prevalent) was certainly harming the game. During a good golfing week end in the South, in all probability, thousands of pounds will be won and lost, but changes hardly ever take place, and indeed all goes out of the self-respect that makes a character like the game, said a cleverman of it from St. Andrews on Saturday. He pointed out that in the North there is a better sporting spirit, and the trouble there is not nearly so great.

One goes into the club-house and all one hears is 'dollar and a cent' and I did this and that with the sum-hands always on the 'D.' It is disastrous to the whole spirit of the game. It has paved the way for gambling and when large sums depend upon a single play he does not know the result, but that one desires to see it out on the links."

ideal business for emigrants. To begin with, the company would send 3,000 emigrants, collected by the company; and in future the company would have the assistance of other Japanese emigration concerns interested in the collection of settlers. The company intends to send about 5,000 immigrants annually.

"The Japanese are certainly an enterprising people so far as we can judge from the specimens of the race who appear on this side of the water," writes the "Brazilian Review" of Rio, when discussing the matter. "Their chief characteristic seems to be a constant optimism under all circumstances, combined with an unquenchable hunger for experience and instruction. They take on engagements in any capacity, quickly learn their business, make their patrons teach them the language of the house, laugh on all occasions, become 'cheeky' or go out on the 'spree', get the 'sack' and sheer off, mentioning as they depart, with a delightful smile, that they will send round one of their countrymen to take the place vacated, and that he 'will be just as good as me!' Here is an advertisement from the 'Estado do S. Paulo':—

"Two good Japanese, Cook or Waiter, having a good experience. Butler or Book-keeper, holding diploma from C.G. Both speak good English only."

"Butler or Book-keeper," Bombardier or Bronchobuster, is it all one to him. No wonder the Americans are afraid of them!

"The Japs," to use their familiar diminutive, seem disposed to profit by the Brazilian Government's invitation to "come over and help us." A company called the "Takusho Kaihisha," which is, in the vulgar, "Colonization Company," of Tokyo, has been formed, whose object is, in the first instance, to found a Japanese colony with headquarters in Iquape, for the cultivation of tea, and perhaps silk. With their usual methodical shrewdness they apparently mean to avoid the course usually followed by certain other nationalities, of losing a heterogeneous horde of uneducated buccolies to disperse themselves, without light or leading, throughout the territories destined to receive them. On the contrary, they have already dispatched men to "search" this land of Canaan, as did a certain other colonization company in days of old. As engineer, an agricultural expert, a physician and a staff of assistants are now on their way to S. Paulo; and it seems probable that they will return, like their prototypes above alluded to, with an 'evil report,' saying that it is "a land that latches up the inhabitants thereof," and that all the people are "men of great stature," so that the searchers were "as grasshoppers in their own sight," and so we were in their sight." Although, to speak sooth as to the last remark, there may be a bit of that too, especially if they happen to take a ramble among the German colonists down Blumenau way! The duty of these picnickers will be to make a thorough examination of the ground to be colonized; and this process being complete and satisfactory, 100 families will form up, march into the encampment and start work. Others will follow till two thousand have established themselves, when other branches of agriculture, probably of rice and other cereals, will be undertaken. The whole enterprise, it is understood, will be under the control and supervision of Sr. Eduardo Ayagi."

It may be remembered that the South American Supplement of the "Times" of March 26th last also referred to Japan's activities in opening up colonizing centres for her people in South America, and our readers would do well to study what they say in the original. There is a great deal of interest being taken in Japan at present in emigration to South America, reported their Tokyo correspondent. An emigration steamer is shortly to leave for Brazil, and the Morokka Emigration Co., in conjunction with the Toyo Kisen Kai-sha Steamship Co., is at present recruiting emigrants for Peru. The emigrant has to make a payment of £14. Out of this the emigration company takes £2 commission, consular fees are paid, and the emigrant is given £80. The land with the balance is kept by the steamship company as fare. The port of arrival is Callao, and much of the work to be done is in the immediate neighbourhood of Lima. Sugar, coffee, cane and cotton are mentioned as the chief kinds of plantations, and it is also pointed out that there is a very large opening for trade in fish. Fish abounds off the coast, and a great deal of fish is consumed (presumably imported salt fish); but up to the present the local fish industry seems to have been neglected.

Japan has for some years turned her attention to Brazil as a field for Japanese labour, and recent political events will have a marked influence on this. When Prince Katsura was premier some three years ago a company was formed under no auspices of the Minister for Agriculture and Commerce, Viscount Oura, to acquire some good agricultural land in the State of São Paulo, Brazil, and to settle a number of Japanese upon it. Since the recent fall of the Saionji cabinet Prince Katsura has again been premier, Viscount Ouro having the Home Office, and on January 18th a large meeting was held at the premier's official residence in order to proceed with this scheme. A large tract of land has been leased from the State of São Paulo, and it is now hoped to send out some 2,000 Japanese families to settle there. The President of the Nippon Yūsen Kaihisha Steamer Co., Baron Kondo, is on the committee, as are several prominent business men, so that with this backing the scheme should be a great success. The Brazilian Government is very much in favour of it, and has offered to do all it can to help in every way.

Emigration of Japanese to Brazil has been going on for some time, but this State-aided scheme of sending out farmers and their families to land leased by Japanese owners will give a better status to the Japanese in Brazil, and should give an impulse to the whole emigration movement. Whenever the writer went in Brazil there was always a cry of fate or braces, and it is indeed labour that is wanted to open up and make productive much of this magnificent land.

Personally, we wish the movement every success, and would recommend the Tokyo Syndicate not to forget Mexico, nor Mexico, when she settles down, to forget the Japs or the Chinese. The more workers that flock into South America, the better for the country's trading with that continent. Dr. Toledo, Minister of Agriculture, who presided over the last Rubber Congress in Brazil, declared that the rubber growth in the valley of the Amazon would be sufficient to meet the world's consumption, if that region were worked in an economical and practical manner. The learned doctor admits, however, that this would be possible only with a relatively dense population, and much better transport facilities than now exist. The Japs, at any rate, suggest a means of overcoming one of these two difficulties, and once the labour is there no doubt transport facilities will soon be forthcoming.—Tropical Life."

BATTLE WITH BRIGANDS

BRITISH VICE-CONSUL'S FIGHT IN TEMA-CAUCAZIA.

Like a miniature battle-field was the dining-room of the residence of Mr. John Pavoni, British Vice-Consul at Tema, in the Caucasus, during a thrilling fight with brigands. Mr. Pavoni and his brother were injured, happily not seriously, in a desperate affray in which the robbers were beaten off. In relation to the affair Mr. Pavoni said, "I was sitting in the dining-room with my eldest brother, Henry, when suddenly I heard the key in the lock of the outside back door being turned. This was followed by a slight cracking of the door as it was opened. Then a closed verandah leading from the dining room to the outside back door, and I got up to go to the dining-room door, to find out what was happening. However, my little daughter Helen who had been pouring out tea for us, before we were, was at the door and opened it, but with great presence of mind dashed it immediately, and, shouting, 'Brigands!' crouched down in the corner of the dining room. My brother started with a revolver and an automatic pistol. Henry rushed to the door, but before he had touched the handle the door opened from the outside and the brigands were facing us. Without hesitation my brother fired point-blank at the first one, giving him two bullets in the chest. As the wounded man staggered back a second brigand took his place, and pointed his rifle at me. I got off my shot first, and, with effect, for it hit the brigand in the head, and he fell on his back, but he was again up in an instant, and hurried himself towards me. I fired a second time; and once more the man staggered back a second brigand took his place, and pointed his rifle at me. I got off my shot first, and, with effect, for it hit the brigand in the head, and he fell on his back, but he was again up in an instant, and hurried himself towards me. I fired a second time; and once more the man staggered back a second brigand took his place, and pointed his rifle at me. present, as it is well-known that he is a strong supporter of President Yuan. If he comes to Canton in a sort of neutral attitude, fighting—possibly of very serious character—will almost certainly be inevitable. Those best informed regarding Canton are of opinion that there is little likelihood of fighting taking place, at least meantime, and that it is much more likely that "a compromise" will be effected than that civil war should be engaged in. What the nature of the "compromise" is likely to be is not stated. It is more important, in our opinion, that no troops should be drafted from Kwangtung northwards, as that would simply mean a recurrence of outlawry of all kinds on land and sea. That the people are well aware of the likelihood of trouble is evident from the news we have to hand to-day from various parts of Kwangtung. All the provinces, with the exception of those mentioned yesterday as having assumed a belligerent attitude, are Micawber-like, waiting to see what will turn up before committing themselves definitely. Meantime they are ostensibly loyal fellow-citizens as become Republicans, of their elected President; and no doubt they will require a good deal more proof than has yet been forthcoming from the Rebels to ensue them to throw in their lot with the present abortive rising, to which everything points to a speedy and humiliating overthrow.

Lieutenant G. E. Stainer, R.N., formerly of H.M.S. Tamar, has been appointed to H.M.S. Victory, for duty in the Portsmouth Dockyard.

H. E. the Governor, Sir Henry May, G.C.M.G., is going on leave to England next month, and will be back in the Colony before Christmas.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

H.M.S. Taku left for the West River last night.

Yesterday a coolie fell from one of the upper floors of 20, Li Yuen Street, a distance of about forty feet. He was alive when picked up, and was sent to hospital.

While blasting was in progress at Chung Hua Island, near Cupinum, a Chinese suffered severe injuries to his face and hands through the premature explosion of a charge. He was brought to Hongkong to hospital.

Prosecuting one of the Sanitary Board coolies this morning for dumping rubbish in a public street at West Point, Sergeant Brown said the man was probably disposing of the refuse for a private individual. The man was fined $10.

A man who was charged with being in possession of ferns and mosses taken from Government plantations, this morning stated that he supplied the Wyndham Street flower sellers every two days. Mr. Green, of the Forestry Department, prosecuted, and the man was fined $2.

A sequel to the sinking of two lights at East Point, during the "equal" last Thursday, was heard in the Police Court this morning, when four Chinese were charged with being in unlawful possession of 23 bags of flour which formed part of the cargo of the lighters, and were found in an eating house cookhouse at Shanghai Street, Yau Ma Tei. Defendants were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment.

For a light and refreshing beer in hot weather, we are recommended to try "San Miguel." We have not tested it yet, but its increasing popularity shows it to be a beverage of excellent quality. The utmost care is taken in the brewing, no foreign matter being used in the way of preservatives. Messrs. Michael and Co., of Pedder Street, are the agents.

Further South the news to hand is that Canton is still quiet and that much depends on the action of General Lung, who is in command of 30,000 troops within a few days march from Canton. It is to be hoped that the General will deem it advisable to adopt the prudent course of remaining where he is, for the

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Four cases of plague were notified in yesterday's list.

Prince Henry of Prussia recently made an hour's flight in a Blériot machine.

The Cruiser, H.M.S. Yarmouth, on completion of the Homs Naval manoeuvres, leaves for the China Station.

Many magicians have visited this part of the world from time to time but none have surpassed Malini in excellence and enterprise, says a Shanghai contemporary.

A fine of $100 was imposed on a junk owner to-day on a charge of illegally exporting arms, and for having a shortage of firearms on his boat according to his license.

Many vapors announced that the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company has decided to make the Philippines a place of call for their Pacific service, which is being extended to London.

Many shells and bullets fell in the French Concession and some passed over the Northern troops.

The Southerners were driven off.

Many shells and bullets fell in the French Concession and some passed over the Northern troops.

Considerable damage was done to the Native City.

A Maxim gun has been placed in the breach in front of the French Concession, and all the volunteers have been called out and are patrolling the streets.

The Northern troops were assisted by three cruisers and seven gunboats, and the battle lasted five or six hours.

Subsequently they were re-inforced and the fight proceeded again. The approaches to the city are under fire.

AT CANTON.

Judging by the appearance of Canton there is little indication of a change of Government or of a serious royal having occurred. Everything is quiet and normal. Over the Government buildings and on some of the ships in the harbour there appear to be a few more flags than usual.

According to a high Consular official, no immediate trouble is anticipated. The "City of Rams." Should, however, General Lung arrive with his men, it is not improbable that fighting might occur. The hope is held that instead of civil war breaking out, a compromise will be effected.

If the troops are withdrawn to go north, which is improbable, an outbreak of robbery and piracy is certain to take place throughout the district.

IN KWANG-SI.

Wuchow is perfectly quiet; the soldiers are preparing for emergencies by fortifying the little island of Kui Lung Chau, a little below Wuchow. The object is to resist any attack that may come from Canton.

Kwang-Si is "sitting on the fence" and is waiting to learn the intentions of General Lung, who has 80,000 troops under his command. General Lung is known to be a strong supporter of President Yuan.

AT FATSHE.

At Fatshe a large number of women and children of the wealthy class have been hastily departing for Hongkong. Dr. Webb Anderson, of the Fatshe Hospital, says that the patients were yesterday fewer in number and a number of the "in patients" returned to their homes. This is significant of the state of mind of the populace.

ON THE SOUTHERN FRONT.

Another informant who left Kuling as late as Tuesday, the 15th, entirely corroborates the above. The southern fugitives were cowed and readily gave up their arms, which were then used by the fugitives who formed a guard over Kuling.

Mr. Duff, who controls the stores at Kuling, tried to get down during the fighting for provisions, but was shot through the arm and compelled to return.

On the Southern side the 6th and 7th regiments accidentally fired on each other. Each then thought the other was playing false and a massacre ensued in which 400 men are said to have been killed.

Our informant believes that the outbreak in Kiangsi is part of a deliberate plan by President Yuan, who fully realized the result of removing the Tatars of Kiangsi, Anhui and Kwangtung, and prepared accordingly. In support of this view it is stated:

1. That Gen. Li Yung-hung did not send an order recalling the northern troops from Kiu Kiang when he was supposed to do so.

2. That the northern general spontaneously gave $200 to the Kiu Kiang hospital just before the fight began, saying (in effect) "Your services will be wanted soon."

3. That Hupeh as well as Wuchow, have been steadily filled with northern troops for some time past.—N. C. Daily News.

SHANGHAI'S POSITION.

AWAITING DEVELOPMENTS.

STRANDED WAR VESSELS.

H.M.S. Moorhen, the French war vessel "Aigle" and the German war vessel "Taingtau" are still lying "high and dry" near Nanking. They cannot get away on account of the sudden fall of the river. They have been in their ludicrous position for at least a fortnight, just at a time when they should have been much at evidence in the neighbourhood of Canton.

H.M.S. Farnie left for Canton at 10 p.m. last night.

A TRUCE.

The assault in the Southern front amounted to more than a thousand, and a truce was arranged for six hours to allow the Red Cross medical corps to bury the dead and attend to the wounded.

SOUTHERNERS RE-INFORCED.

The Southerners were subsequently reinforced by 1,400 men, and fighting was resumed.

The result of the battle is not known at present.

ANXIETY TYPE NOT NECESSARY.

CHAMBERLAIN's Colonies, Clusters and Divisions, Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, need no gratification to attract the public eye. The simple statement that the Chamberlain's will be sufficient, as every family, in its way, has been approached, the leaders of the movement have been regarding him as a father, and just what his name implies.

DR. SUN PRESIDENT OF SOUTH CHINA.

The rebel leaders in Nanking propose that Dr. Sun Yat Sen shall be elected President of South China.

Considerable anxiety was created early this morning, when a Japanese man-of-war fired a salute of twenty-one guns. It was feared that the Kiangsi troops were attacking and that a battle had begun at the forts. Great indignation is expressed at the incident. Strong suspicion prevails here of Japanese complicity in the present uprising.—Reuters.

THE BALKANS WAR.

BULGARIA APPEALS TO THE KAISER.

LONDON, July 22.

Reuter's correspondent at Belgrade telegraphs that it transpires that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has telegraphed appealing to the Kaiser on the subject of the Roumanian invasion. The nature of the reply is unknown.

TURKS DEFEAT BULGARIANS.

Turkish despatch of yesterday states that the Bulgarians opposed the Turkish occupation of various strategic points, compelling the Turks to give battle, with the result that the Turks have succeeded in capturing Kulilburgs, Luelburgs, the Ergene Bridge, and Baboki, taking 135 prisoners.

STATEMENT IN THE COMMONS.

In the House of Commons, Mr. F. D. Acland, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that the latest information regarding Turkey was occupying the attention of the Powers, but he could not state what action they might agree to take.

THE AMBASSADORS' CONFERENCE.

The conference of ambassadors held in London has lengthily discussed the question of the Turkish advance and the necessity that the belligerents should come to an early arrangement. The Conference is unanimously of the opinion that the attempt of Turkey to effect a revision of the decision of the Powers on the subject of the frontier is absolutely inadmissible. The Ambassadors expect instructions on the 24th instant regarding the action to be taken at Constantinople.

A FLOOD OF DESPATCHES.

Communication between Bulgaria and Europe, which was interrupted owing to the Roumanian advance, has now been re-opened; consequently there is a flood of Sofia despatches, which are mostly official accounts of the alleged atrocities of the Servians and Greeks.

FLEEING FROM ADRIANOPOLE.

The civil authorities and population at Adrianople are fleeing to Bulgaria. It is reported that Enver Bey commands the captors.

EFFECTS OF THE POWERS.

The Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith, in the course of his speech at Birmingham, said the Powers had been doing their utmost to bring the disputants together at a peaceful conference. He added that if Turkey is ill-advised enough to defy the Treaty she must be prepared for the bringing up of questions which will not be to her interest, and which will bring into debate certain of her actions.

AMBASSADORS AWAITING INSTRUCTIONS.

LATER.

The Ambassadors at London expect to be fully instructed in time for their next meeting, which takes place to-morrow.

THE POWERS AND TURKEY.

The "Loklanziger," which is regarded as a semi-official journal, states that it believes that anything beyond diplomatic pressure will be applied to the Porte. This is hardly reconcilable with Mr. Asquith's statement yesterday evening at Birmingham.

The important factor of the present situation is the coincidence between the interests of Austria and Russia, both of whom are equally desirous to prevent excessive humiliation to Bulgaria.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

It has apparently been settled that the peace negotiations which are entirely independent of the armistice negotiations at Niab, will be held at Sinaia.

ARMY HORSES STAMPEDE.

MEN AND HORSES INJURED.

LONDON, July 23.

Two hundred and fifty horses of the Queen's Dragoon Guards, pickeled at Elstead, stampeded owing to a night attack by infantry. The camp was thrown into an indescribable state of confusion, and men and officers worked gallantly to quieten and secure the terrified animals. Eight horses had to be destroyed, and it is feared that twelve more will have to be shot. Five men were sent to hospital, one of them, a sergeant, farrier, being gravely injured. Sixty horses galloped back to their stables at Aldershot.

SHOOTING AT BISLEY.

BRITAIN WINS THE KALASPERE CUP.

LONDON, July 23.

The following are the scores in the competition for the Kalasper Cup:—

HOME CRICKET.

LONDON, July 23.

Warwickshire beat Derbyshire at Birmingham by an innings and 31 runs. Hampshire beat Worcestershire at Dudley by an innings and 20 runs. Kent beat Lancashire at Maidstone by nine wickets.

Gloucestershire beat Yorkshire at Sheffield by 2 runs. Last year Yorkshire won by 74 runs.

The Middlesex v. Surrey match at the Oval ended in a draw. Same result last year.

Northants beat Sussex at Horsham by 50 runs.

A STATELY CEREMONY.

LONDON, July 23.

The re-inauguration of King Henry the Seventh's chapel at Westminster Abbey as the chapel of the Order of the Bath was the occasion of a stately ceremonial. There was a procession from the House of Lords of the commanders of the Bath, after which the King, in robes of crimson silk, with Pages of Honour, was preceded by the Duke of Connaught. Noticeable among the processionists, who wore robes and quaint headgear, were Earls Roberts, Kitchener and Grey and Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, and Lords Methuen, Beresford and Brussey.

Crowds cheered their Majesties and Princess Mary while driving to the Abbey.

WELSH DISESTABLISHMENT.

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, July 23.

In the House of Lords Lord Salisbury, on behalf of the Opposition, moved that the House decline to proceed with the second reading of the Welsh Disestablishment Bill until it had been submitted to the country by means of a referendum.

Lord Haldane maintained that the Bill was righteous and its policy a one.

OBITUARY.

SIR RALPH KNOX.

LONDON, July 23.

The death is announced of the Rt. Hon. Sir Ralph Henry Knox. Having entered the War Office in 1858, he was a member of the committee which worked out Lord Cardwell's army reform, and of the Royal Commission on Indian Financial Relations, 1890; Civil Service Superannuation, 1902; and Militia and Volunteers, 1903. He was seventy-seven years old.

GERMAN MINISTER AT PEKING.

PROBABLE CHANGE.

It has apparently been settled that the peace negotiations which are entirely independent of the armistice negotiations at Niab, will be held at Sinaia.

Teams, "A and G" Coy.—Challenger; Farmer, Moray; Baldwin; Shale, Cussell, Smith, "B and H" Coy.—Johnson, Newcombe, Casey, Carter; Read, Withers, Bailey.

Referee, Lie. Cpl. Brown, R. E.

From the commencement, it was seen that "B and H" were no match for their opponents. Johnson scored from Cussell and Smith; and at the other end Farmer pulled Carter up near goal. Withers also missed narrowly and then play went to the opposite end; Johnna scraped off a shot from Cussell but Farmer opened the scoring. The same player added two more before the interval when "A and G" were leading by 3 goals to nil.

The second half was mostly in favour of "A and G" Coy. After Withers had had a good shot saved by Challenger, Farmer was off to the other end where he scored the fourth for his side. Cussell notched the fifth, and Farmer's sixth and seventh. Withers made several good attempts but was poorly supported. Farmer thus scored six of the seven goals. Result:—"A and G" Coy. v. D.C.L.I. 7: "B and H" Coy. v. D.C.L.I. 0."

"CHINESE" OR "CHINAMAN."

The following letter appeared recently in the "Manchester Guardian":—

Sir.—At the opening of the Manchester Exhibition of Chinese Applied Arts at the City Gallery on June 18 a jarring note was more than once struck in the speech of Sir Hercules Read by his use of the term "Chinaman" for "Chinese," and I see in your report "to-day's" "Manch Star Guardian" the term appears twice. It was the Chinese laundrymen on the Pacific Coast of the United States whom the name was first given. It was strange to hear a speaker from a responsible quarter use this term, which by every educated Chinese is regarded as an insult.

One need speak with full respect to Sir Hercules Read's speech, though one's own anxiety was to come within sight of the few rare objects of which he spoke.

It seemed, indeed, that one never had seen and never again would see such objects of truly as those we were to look upon in that exhibition. Yet, with one or two exceptions, there was no class of work with which I was not old and familiar.

Sir Hercules Read, rendered, and very rightly so, warm tributes of praise to the actual arrangement of the exhibits, and that is praise which none can set the exhibition and withhold. His chief, and indeed only, fault is of more or less, a lack of background, which could easily be filled by hanging two or three Chinese paintings (which were within reach) on the wall, being the joint effort of the Chinese and the English.

HONGKONG TIDES

The tide table given below has been compiled by the Nautical Almanac Office in London from the results of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1887-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty

Chart which has been found to be the best

3-inch below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 5 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont

Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches to the height given in the table.
